Trapani (West): This wonderful seaside villa with salt-water infinity pool and lush gardens is a perfect base from which to explore Sicily's stunning west coast.

This attractive property sits on the hedge of the WWF operated Trapanis saltpans nature reserve: an expanse of land dominated by its iconic windmills and rich wildlife. The location of the villa allows for explorations of the surrounding area along the coast, including the beach of Marausa Lido, the old town centres of Trapani and Marsala. The medieval village of Erice, the temples of Segesta and Selinunte, the Egadi islands and the Zingaro nature reserve with the popular beach of San Vito Lo Capo are all within reach of this villa and well worth visiting.
